Powered by DRIVIN®—KAR Global’s data science and analytics engine—our proprietary dashboards provide meaningful insights about retail and wholesale marketplace trends impacting our markets and the broader remarketing ecosystem.

Use our dashboards to quickly glean high-level trends or drill-down to the state level to determine where there is buyer demand, where there is excess seller inventory and which markets are the most vibrant and active at any given time.

Hover over trend lines and states to see date- and state-specific information. And use the dated scroll bar under each map to animate state and national trends over time.
